Dear [addHumanResourcesRepresentativehere]:

After having read the job description of [addYourPositionHere], along with its expectations and responsibilities, I feel that I am fully prepared and capable of fulfilling your needs for this position. My personal skills, patience, and enthusiasm will lend to my success with this job.

As you will see I have attached my resume along with a list of references. While these showcase my skill set and ability to handle the responsibilities of the job, I feel that a personal interview will give you a better idea of my talents and personal qualities that would be beneficial for this position.

A personal interview would allow me to demonstrate my talents. I look forward to hearing from you so that we can schedule a meeting.

Sincerely,

Ibrahim Husain
